“WAR MOTHERS ORGANIZED IN BULLOCK COUNTY

Over in Union Springs, Mrs. A. H. Strickland has originated something that will strike a responsive cord among patriotic people-the “American Mothers of National Defenders”. She proposes to make of it a national order as far reaching in its membership as the Daughters of the American Revolution. Union Springs her home city, has responded with a charter membership of thirty and interest and appreciation that promises more members drawn from among the mothers sisters and wives of soldiers. The idea which originated in that sympathetic community of Alabama, out of the abundance of love and patriotism which exists there has been commended widely and promises to be adopted throughout America. An organizer is expected also to take up the work in Montgomery within a few days.

Already the mother chapter has received encouraging commendation from many quarters. Governor Henderson showed his approval in a letter to the author of the chapter in which he expressed the opinion that the organization will be an appropriate banding together of these who have the deepest of sympathetic feeling between them.

Women who have sent their men to the front. Other prominent men who favor the stimulation of patriotic ideals have been as enthusiastic in their approval of an organization of this character

Governor Henderson's letter, expressing his opinion of the plan was as follows:

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 15, 1918.

Mrs. A. H. Strickland,
Union Springs, Ala.,

Dear Mrs. Strickland:

I am in receipt of yours of the 15th advising me of an organization originated and formed at Union Springs, which you wish to make nation wide. I see nothing in this organization that would conflict with any of the war activities that have been heretofore launched or likely to be organized hereafter. I can, however, see much benefit to be derived from an association of those who have sent their husbands and sons to the front to defend what is dearest to mankind-home and country. There is more of a sympathetic feeling between those who have sons and husbands at the front than can be brought about in any other way, and it appears to me that banding together the women of the country who are making this sacrifice will strengthen patriotism and create a stronger desire for service. The proposed organization has my approval and believe it can easily be made state wide.

Yours very truly,

Chas. Henderson, Governor.
